Case Study 1

1. The Event

3. The Problem

He was admitted to the emergency department and was subject to diagnostic tests. Doctors determined that he was suffering with pneumonia and required treatment in hospital as an in-patient.

We received a call from the client at our 24/7 emergency assistance centre. Our client, who was usually based in the UK, was travelling in the US and had developed a high fever and flu-like symptoms.

2. The Impact

CLAIM COST:

$30,000

Chubb's emergency assistance line call handlers listened to the customer's symptoms and recommended that he seek medical attention. They directed him to the nearest hospital.

The emergency assistance team liaised with the hospital to arrange payment for the treatment and ensured that the customer was satisfied with his care.
